ESSEX AGRICULTURAL AND TECHNICAL INSTITUTE
NINETEEN HUNDRED EIGHTY THREE

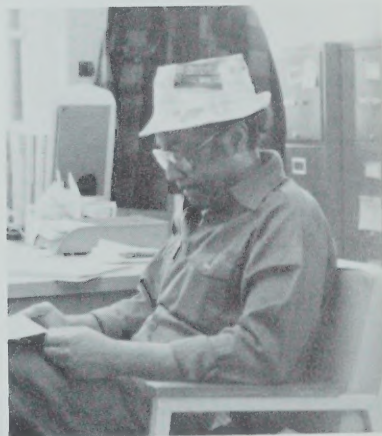

There are those who build the walls,
that never crumble, never fall.
It is those who really know,
from their experience how to show
that what they teach, will help us grow.

As we go from day to day,
with fact to fact, from page to page,
we have learned, and it does show,
that what they taught, is what is so,
They work so hard to let us know.

They dedicate so much time,
And appear with smiles that always shine.
We leave behind the nicest thoughts,
About the ones who really sought
To give the best to all of us

We, the class of 1983,
therefore proudly dedicate our yearbook
to the faculty and administration
in sincere appreciation of all
that they have done for us.

The true wealth of a nation lies not in it's gold or silver but in it's learning, wisdom and in the uprightness of it's sons.

Let not the waves of the sea separate us now.

Life is full of Ups and Downs.
Full of Crooks, full of Clowns.

Sometimes I feel like this is the end,
when I lose Life or Love of a close friend.

It's a vicious circle of Death and Life,
where one man's pleasure is another's strife.

But somehow uninterrupted life goes on,
and I have to get up and get right back on.

Well, this is the end of the story So I'll Smile,
because life's a puzzle, I won't Solve for a while.
